Coyotes Win Streak Snapped

JAMES D. CIMBUREK/PRESS AND DAKOTAN South Dakota's D.J. Davis lays the ball in during the second half of the Coyotes' matchup with Cal State Bakersfield on Saturday at the DakotaDome in Vermillion.

BY JEREMY HOECK jeremy.hoeck@yankton.net

Any momentum the University of South Dakota had built over a 5-game winning streak took a little bit of a hit Saturday. CSU Bakersfield, a California-based school in the WAC, made the plays the Coyotes weren't down the stretch in a 77-67 victory Saturday at the DakotaDome. And those moments in particular were ones that stood out later to USD (6-4). "I'm really disappointed in us; in our effort, execution and lack of adjustments," head coach Craig Smith said. "Just really disappointed."

It wasn't as though the Coyotes were cold from the field (they shot 48 percent), it was just that the Roadrunners were a little better down the stretch. Bakersfield (5-3), which came with an RPI of 225, consistently answered every Coyote basket during a crucial 4-minute stretch in the second half. USD's Tre Burnette missed a three-pointer with 62 seconds left, with the 'Runners up 70-64. Bakersfield then scored its final seven points at the free throw line to pad the margin. "We fought hard to come back, but we went away from what got us there," said USD point guard Shy McClelland, who referenced his own 0-of-5 effort on free throws. Asked what USD was doing during its win streak that it didn't do Saturday, senior Eric Robertson immediately pointed to preparation. "Today we didn't come together," said Robertson, who scored a team-high 17
