Mount Marty Makes Donation to Support Victims of Human Trafficking

YANKTON – On Thursday, November 12, Mount Marty College hosted “An Evening with Remedy Drive,” a concert event to bring awareness about the issue of human trafficking in our state, country and world. During the event, an offering was taken, with all proceeds going to support the Tapestry International organization in Sioux Falls that helps victims of human trafficking. In the end, more than $500 was donated to the cause.

The director of Tapestry International, Rev. Dr. Kimberly LaPlante, was one of our guest panelists for the Human Trafficking Noon Forum held earlier in the day on November 12. She joined panelists David Zach (Lead Singer, Remedy Drive), Kevin Koliner (Prosecutor, United States Attorney's Office South Dakota) and Lisa Heth (Pathfinder Project).

LaPlante enjoyed being a part of the forum and working with college students. “This age group is at a season of their life where they can use their voice and make a huge impact,” said LaPlante.

The work of Tapestry International includes international outreach, developing leadership and training front line leaders around the world. In addition, the organization provides direct services locally through the Call to Freedom program. This program helps provide resources and trauma and case management for victims of human trafficking. Essentially, they help victims learn to navigate through life again. In a typical month, the program is assisting 10 South Dakotans.

LaPlante started working with victims of human trafficking more than 13 years ago and a mission trip of India and Bangkok. “I felt I was sitting where Jesus would sit,” said LaPlante. “We as followers of Jesus need to be fighting injustices,” she added.
