store will simply slide over here to the grocery store (location), and the spot that currently houses the hardware store will be leased out."

Store management is currently discussing that lease, Starr said, with a couple of interested individuals.

"Nothing is imminent. We cannot make any kind of an announcement at this time, but they are a couple of players that do not currently have a presence in Clay County," he said. "So it works well for the city of Vermillion, also."

Jones' Ace Hardware, once housed in what was the food store, will have more than double the floor space that it has currently.

Starr said management is trying its best to look out for its employees who will be affected by this major change.

"We are making every attempt to place as many of our full-time people as possible," he said. "I can't honestly say that we will be able to find something for everybody, but are certainly going to be making the effort to make sure these people are taken care of. It's a tough deal – you can't make any promises, but these people have been so good to us, and they've come to know the community and we've gotten to know them."

"We know their strengths and we want to find something for them, preferably within our company if at all possible," Starr said, "so we are working to do that as we speak."

Ace Hardware has store locations throughout the United States.

"They have a very large presence in the Midwest," Starr said. "They are based out of Chicago, our warehouse is located in La Crosse, WI, we've been with these folks for 12 years now and they are a fantastic company to work with."

The current Jones' Hardware store in Vermillion has consistently had its limitations.

"I can't tell you how often we have to deal with a customer who walks into the store and is looking for something special ... looking for some fitting, some coupling or some other item, and we can't satisfy the customer's need," Starr said. "We don't have the room, we don't have the inventory, and this happens almost daily."

"If we can't satisfy their needs, more than likely nobody else in Vermillion can, either, which forces them to go to Yankton, or Sioux City or Sioux Falls," he said. "Hopefully, that is not going to happen once the new Jones' Ace Hardware opens up."

Starr will continue to oversee the operations of the several retail businesses operated by the Peterses in several southeast South Dakota communities. After the remodeling is complete in Vermillion, Gregg and Nicki will operate hardware stores in Vermillion and Madison, and grocery stores in Elk Point, Parker and Viborg.

"The things that have made us special are the things that the big boys won't do, don't care to do, don't want to do," he said. "We always did them, but unfortunately it has become tougher and tougher to operate in a big box world. We did the best we could, and we're very proud of what we've accomplished, and we're excited for the changes that are ahead."

Someday, there may be a Jones' Food Center in Vermillion once again.

"If the right opportunity were to present itself within a year or so, absolutely. Nikki Peters has already made that comment that if the right opportunity presented itself, they would get another Jones' Food Center open tomorrow," Starr said.
