

THE BLUFFS

Men's Senior Golf Fun League

Twelve seniors played on a cool rainy Tuesday afternoon at The Bluffs.

In match-play format, the team of Louie Fosvedt, Max Anderson and Cleland Cook won the match against the team of Guy Batton, Turk Pilker and Dave Zimmer.

In a match decided by a tie-breaker, the team of Sid Davis, Shorty Hanson and Alan Clem defeated the team of Vern Holter, Ken Beringer and Dick Burbach.

The Men's Senior Golf Fun League has a 9 a.m. tee-time between Memorial Day and Labor Day. This year it starts on May 28. Please come so that teams can be formed before the 9 a.m. tee-time.

77-year-old gets hole-in-one

Yankton's Don Casey wrote down a golfer's favorite number on his scorecard at The Bluffs Senior Tournament on Tuesday: 1.

The 77-year-old Casey made a hole-in-one on Hole No. 17 during his round in the event, hitting the 163-yard shot with a 5-wood.

Two aces, same hole, same day

The Bluffs Golf Course in Vermillion had an unusual occurrence on Sunday, as two different golfers made a hole-in-one on the same hole during the day.

Both golfers found the cup on their first shots on Hole No. 12, but from different tee boxes.

Playing from the blue tees, Matt Semmler made the 153-yard shot with a pitching wedge. From the gold tees, Mat Trotzig made the 172-yard shot with a 5-iron.

The National Hole-In-One Registry lists the odds of an average golfer making a hole-in-one at 12,000 to 1, and the odds of two players from the same foursome acing the same hole as 17 million to one. There are no odds listed for two individuals from different foursomes acing the same hole.

Vermillion Post 1 wins one, loses one

Vermillion lost its first game as it played host to the Lewis & Clark Wooden Bat Classic Friday and Saturday. The tournament was held at three sites: Yankton's Riverside Field's, Vermillion's Prentis Park and Crofton, NE's Baseball Park.

The tournament continued Saturday at all three sites, and championship play was held at Riverside Field in Yankton on Sunday. Mitchell rallied in the seventh inning to defeat Brandon Valley Post 131

7-6 in the championship game in Yankton Sunday afternoon.

Friday action in Vermillion S.F. West 8, Vermillion 2

Jake Niedringhaus drove in three runs as Sioux Falls West scored six runs in the first inning and hung on for an 8-2 win over Vermillion in Friday's first game at Prentis Park.

Connor Grove struck out six batters over six innings to get the win for West, while Justin Kautz added three hits.

Chayse Meierkort was 3-4 for Vermillion, while Collin Bertram added a pair of hits. Collin Olson went the distance and picked up the loss.

Saturday action in Vermillion Vermillion 3, Brookings 2

The hometown team scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning and Vermillion held on to beat Brookings 3-2 in Saturday's first game. Saturday's action at Prentis Park was pushed back two hours because of rain, meaning each game that day was trimmed to six innings.

The Brookings Bandits loaded the bases with one out in the top of the sixth inning, and scored a run on a walk. Consecutive ground outs ended the game.

Collin Olson was 2-3 with two RBI for Vermillion, and also got the win. Tanner Anderson drove in the other run.

Thomas McMacken and Gunner Peterson had the only hits for Brookings.

USD track and field making national strides

Answer these two questions. Name one team at USD that ranks better than every member of the Big East?

How about a team that ranks better than Alabama and Notre Dame?

If you said women's track and field for both, you would be correct. The USD women are ranked 31st in the latest the U.S. Track and Field/Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) Computer Rankings, are the fifth-best team in the nation in a non-BCS conference, and is by far the class of the Summit League on a national scale.

Four members of the USD women's team and one USD men's team member competed at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships beginning on Wednesday, June 5. Freshman thrower Meghan Dennis, junior pole vaulter Bethany Buell, sophomore pole vaulter Emily Grove and junior high jumper Megan Glisar all qualified on the women's side, while junior thrower Cody Snyder represents the first USD men's athlete to qualify for the D-I Championships since the transition.

"The opportunity for all of them to go to Eugene and be All-Americans would be a really big step for our program," said women's head coach Lucky Huber. "When we began this journey, a lot of people said we wouldn't be able to do these things. It just goes to show how far our program has grown."

Combining both men's and women's teams, South Dakota makes up five of the eight athletes from the Summit League at the championships. North Dakota State will send two and Kansas City added the last one.

The South Dakota women are tops in the league on the national scale.

According to the USTFCCCA rankings, which bases its rankings on a projection of points based on times and marks, USD is 48 spots better than the next best Summit League program, which is Kansas City in 79th. North Dakota State's women are ranked 98th.

Also in those aforementioned USTFCCCA rankings, the USD women rank 31st out of the 143 programs that are ranked, and are ahead of Wisconsin (32nd), Notre Dame (33rd), Oklahoma (34th), Alabama (37th) and Missouri (38th). Breaking down by conferences, the USD women are better than 10 programs in the ACC, seven in the Big 10, seven in the Missouri Valley and all of the Big East. They are the fifth-best program not in a power conference in just their fourth season as a Division I program.

"The transition to D-I has always been about doing better," said Huber. "I think with the support of the University we have been able to raise the standards of our track program and we are starting to see the benefits."

The Coyote women will look to improve on their best D-I national finish of 34th set a year ago, while any points by Snyder would give the men's team its first points at the D-I Championships since the transition.

Meghan Dennis - Freshman - Javelin Dennis, who rounded out USD's women's qualifiers by finishing 10th in the javelin Saturday, started the Coyotes' championship week by competing in her first NCAA Championship on Wednesday. She threw a school and state record 159-3 at the West Region Preliminary Round, breaking the previous records of 157-10 she set at the Summit League Outdoor Championships on May 10.

Dennis enters with the 17th-best mark set at the regional meets, and the 17th-best mark this season out of the final 24 athletes.

Huber's take on Dennis: "Meghan is on a roll, every time she goes into a championship experience she's expecting to throw big and have a good mark."

Bethany Buell and Emily Grove - Junior and sophomore - Pole vault
