Beacom Named Among Top In World

The online MBA program at the University of South Dakota's Beacom School of Business has been ranked No. 16 out of 80 business schools worldwide that were analyzed by The Princeton Review.

"The high ranking for our online MBA program continues to reflect the quality of learning experience and the value we offer at an affordable cost," said Venky Venkatachalam, dean of the Beacom School of Business. "We have a cutting-edge curriculum. Our faculty are truly world-class, and they are also well-trained in online instruction. The result is that students get the best value." Princeton said its 2015 list of top 25 online masters of business administration programs is the first such ranking based on both surveys of administrators at the 80 schools and of about 2,000 students enrolled in those programs. Criteria focused on five areas: academics, selectivity, faculty, technical platforms and career outcomes.

The full Princeton list can be viewed at www.princeton-review.com/online-mba.

It's the second recent top ranking for USD's online MBA program. The QS Distance Online MBA last month listed the Beacom program among its top 25.

Kaci Madsen Selected For Rural Electric Youth Tour

BY SHAUNA MARLETTE
shauna.marlette@plaintalk.net

For Vermillion sophomore Kaci Madsen, one trip this summer is sure to be electric.

Selected by the Clay-Union Electric Corporation to be their representative at the Rural Electric Youth Tour in Washington, D.C., Madsen will have an opportunity to learn more about the role of cooperatives in providing community development.

More than 1,500 students from all across the country take part in the Youth Tour experience each year.

"I had to write a report on what Clay-Union Electric means to me," she said. "I wrote about how it helps my community and all of that."

For Madsen the trip will be an opportunity to explore the nation's capital as the participants will visit museums, memorials and monuments with other student leaders from nearly every state. She will have the opportunity to meet South Dakota's congressional delegation.

"I see this opportunity opening her eyes and broadening her horizons," said Angie Culver Madsen, Kaci's mother. "She's a 4.0 student, participates in volleyball, student council, SAD and track, so she stays very involved. I'm very proud of her and blessed that she's my daughter and happy that she gets to experience this - it's a once in a lifetime opportunity."

EA BOOK 59 #3

Goehle Joins USD Women's Basketball Staff

South Dakota women's basketball head coach Amy Williams has added Tom Goehle to her coaching staff for the 2015-16 season.

"I am thrilled to announce the addition of Tom to our Coyote women's basketball family," said Williams. "He is a talented basketball coach with a passion for serving others. His familiarity with the Summit League and his recruiting ties in our area will allow him to make an immediate impact. Our players will be fortunate to have him as a mentor."

Goehle comes to South Dakota after stops at Coastal Carolina, North Dakota State and Sioux Falls. He worked specifically with the development of post players at each school. In addition, Goehle's duties included recruiting, scouting, coordination of summer camps and game management.

"I am grateful for this opportunity and excited to be a part of the South Dakota community," said Goehle. "I am looking forward to coming alongside of Coach Williams, her staff and this group of talented young women. Amy's passion for the game and love for her players is contagious; I look forward to adding to that love and passion."

His accomplishments at NDSU included the recruitment of Brooke LeMar, an all-Summit League player for the Bison. Goehle also helped two former Bison secure professional contracts overseas.

Goehle has also been heavily involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes since 1993. He began serving as the Director of Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Sports Ambassadors International Sports Ministry in 1996. He coaches the summer basketball teams Guatemala, El Salvador and Singapore.

Prior to arriving at the collegiate level, Goehle spent 15 years working for his alma mater, Hills Beaver Creek school district, in Hills, Minn. Goehle held a variety of positions ranging from a physical education instructor, health science teacher, girls basketball coach, track and field coach and cross country coach.

Goehle graduated from Augustana College with a bachelor's degree in education in 1993.
