

One in a Vermillion

Meet Julie Madden

By David Lias

She's back. Many Vermillionites, particularly students and faculty on the University of South Dakota campus, were disappointed when Julie Madden decided more than a year ago to move from Vermillion to Rapid City. She had won a large following on the University of South Dakota campus, thanks to her warm hospitality as "the coffee lady" at the Al Neuharth Media Center. She tended a coffee bar located in the building's atrium and became a hit with students and faculty alike.

Julie once again is calling Vermillion home, and today, she's brightening up a corner of downtown Vermillion, specifically, her new employer, BBQ Blues, located at 5 Market Street.

"I moved to Rapid City for a year to help my son and daughter-in-law with my grandson," she said. "But my heart is here in Vermillion, and I just had to come back home, so I returned."

One of Julie's good friends is also friends with Denny and Kathy Kainrath, the owners of BBQ Blues.

"He knew they were looking for help, and he knew I was looking for a job, so he connected us," Julie said. "So, now I work here, and I love it. It's great – it's a great atmosphere. Everything that we make here is from scratch – all of the sides, the desserts, the sauces."

In fact, before she took a short break early Friday afternoon, she had just popped a made-from-scratch batch of bread pudding into the oven.

The restaurant, a new addition to downtown

Vermillion, has been open for a few months now.

"We do beef brisket, ribs, chicken, and pork, and the meat just melts in your mouth – it's so tender," she said.

Julie is glad to be back in Vermillion, in a role where she can meet and help others every day.

"I love people, and I try to go above and beyond with customer service and to always be friendly, because I think that's very important," she said. "I like to try to make sure that everyone is happy."

C & B Operations, LLC Becomes Great American Wheat Harvest Documentary Film New Gold Sponsor

Emmitsburg, MD- Nov. 7, 2013-Conrad Weaver of ConjoStudios, LLC announces C & B Operations, LLC, as a new Gold Sponsor for the Great American Wheat Harvest documentary film. With corporate headquarters in Gettysburg, S.D., C & B Operations, LLC represents 24 John Deere dealerships in South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana, Wyoming and Idaho, all featuring agricultural equipment, service and parts. "We value the family-owned business traditions of C & B Operations, LLC, and the historical impact this company and the town of Gettysburg brings to the overall narrative of our film project," Weaver says. "Their management and marketing practices provide the leadership that has laid the foundation of attracting generations of loyal customers, which we appreciate."

Gettysburg was founded in 1883 by veterans of the Civil War, and in 1991, because of their shared heritage, became "sister-cities" with Gettysburg, Penn. C & B Operations, LLC began in 1988 when Dan Cronin and Rod Burwell purchased the John Deere store in Gettysburg to maintain a John Deere dealership in Cronin's hometown. In 1999, Cronin passed away and his son, Matt, took the role of president to date, while Burwell remains chairman.

"A film like the Great American Wheat Harvest encapsulates the heritage of farmers, custom harvesters and life in rural America," says Matt Cronin, president and CEO, C & B Operations, LLC. "It is important to use communication vehicles, such as this documentary, to show the American public how important the agricultural industry and the family farmers are in feeding the world."

Having grown up on his family's farm, which his brothers operate today, Cronin says he values the opportunity for his hometown and state to be a part of the film. It's a story that will feature people, like our customers, who are dedicated to producing our nation's food supply," he says.

C & B Operations, LLC joins other Great American Wheat Harvest major sponsors like: John Deere; U.S. Custom Harvesters Inc.; MacDon Industries; Case IH; Association of Canadian Custom Harvesters; TMCO National Manufacturing; Nebraska Wheat Board, Oklahoma Wheat Commission and Montana Wheat and Barley Committee as state wheat sponsors; and media partner, AgWired, an online media service at <http://agwired.com>.
