USD falls to WIU, will face them again

Ann Miller's 25 kills led a quartet of Leathernecks to double-digit kills as Western Illinois topped USD volleyball 19-25, 25-22, 25-17, 15-25, 15-10 on Sunday in Western Hall. USD (18-12, 9-5) finished the regular season losing four straight and six of its last eight.

Mallory Gibson tallied 12 kills, Jordan Jackson added 11 kills and Heather Smith had 10 kills to add to the Leatherneck (12-17, 6-8) effort. Molly Murphy led WIU defensively with 20 digs while Sarah Fetter had 55 assists.

Western Illinois benefited from 13 Coyote attack errors in the second set and recorded 19 kills and 11 kills in the third and fifth sets respectively. The Leathernecks held a slight advantage in kills (65-59) and had an edge in digs (84-74). USD's Kendall Kritenbrink tallied 24 kills and became the first player in Coyote history to record 500 kills in a season. She started the match with a season total of 497 and is now six kills away from passing her sister Kristin (2007-2010) for second on USD's all-time kills list at 1,396.

Kelsey Biltoft added 10 kills, Riley Haug had 17 digs and Tori Kroll added 45 assists to the Coyote effort. USD dropped from a second place tie with Denver (16-11, 10-4) to a third place tie with Fort Wayne (17-13, 9-5) in the Summit League standings. Denver topped Omaha 3-0 to take the second seed and a first round by in the Summit League Tournament starting on Friday.

The Coyotes will take on Western Illinois at the Summit League Tournament on Friday, a 3:30 p.m. Central start.

"They (players) would say this is a sweet victory in Vermillion," head coach John Stiegelmeier said. "A great rivalry, a great environment for a football game.

"The bottom line, we won, that's our goal; one and oh."

For the Coyotes, meanwhile, they struggled with many of the missed opportunities that cost them most of the season – namely on offense, where USD was forced into a near onedimensional state.

"We've got to make more plays, and we're not quite there yet," head coach Joe Glenn said. "It would have been a lot better if we had a running game to help us make plays, and we didn't have it."

Time and time again during his post-game press conference, Glenn harped on the lack of a running game with redshirt freshmen Trevor Bouma (6 carries for 15 yards) and Jordan Roberts (8 for 31) hampered with injuries. For the game, the Coyotes ran for 59 yards and passed for 325.

"We just knew coming in that we could take advantage of things in the passing game, and for the most part we were able to do that, but like coach said, we weren't able to offset it with the running game," said receiver Terrance Terry, who caught nine passes for 115 yards and a score.

Statistically, the Coyotes were a perfect 3-for-3 in the red zone, but the fact that USD made field goals of 21 and 25 yards proved it was deep in Jackrabbit territory but came up short. "Things get a lot tighter when you 429 start getting in the red zone," said Earl, who completed 21-of-48 passes. "Running the ball gets harder, throwing gets tighter; smaller windows. "It's just tough, we weren't able to put the ball in the end zone. That definitely would have helped us out if we converted some of those red zones into touchdowns."

Following a defensive first half that saw the Jacks lead 13-6 at the break, USD reached the end zone on a 13yard pass from Earl to Terry at the 7:04 mark of the third quarter. SDSU maintained a 13-12 lead after the extra point was missed.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, SDSU's Austin Sumner found Schneider again on a 5-yard pass play.

USD's next drive came up inches short on a 4th & 6 pass to Josh Vander Maten, giving the ball back to the Jacks in what, at the time, seemed like a key turning point.

There were many of those feelings Saturday, particularly in the final five minutes.

One such key time was when SDSU linebacker R.C. Kilgore sacked Earl on 4th and 11 deep in Jackrabbit territory with 3:04 to play. Then followed Zenner's fumble, though, but SDSU would later escape harm.

"Everything clicked today, we came out played hard," Kilgore said. "We could look in each others eyes and we knew it was going to be one of our best performcances of the year."

The Jackrabbits head to Youngstown State Saturday for a chance to win and likely qualify for the FCS playoffs. The Coyotes, meanwhile, travel to top-ranked North Dakota State in Fargo.

The Prairie Doc Perspective: Why do breasts get attention?

By Richard P. Holm MD

Why does the female breast get so much attention?

Why has the female organ, which has evolved there to feed her newborn child become Madison Avenue's sure-fired way to sell almost anything to men AND women?

Is it because the infant memory most of us have of the calming, unconditionalcaring nature of Mama, and of the nutritious and lifesustaining milk coming from her breast?

Or is it because breasts are usually covered, or partly hidden from public view? Is it the fact breasts are forbidden fruit, and it is the social allure of the taboo that has made them so interesting? Jerry Seinfeld said that, "If women kept their heads covered instead of their breasts, we'd all be heading down to the corner store to pick up the latest copy of Heads Illustrated."

I think the answer to our question runs deeper than juvenile musings or the appeal of a prohibited peek. Evolutionary psychologists speculate that breasts are what attracted ancestral males seeking a healthy partner with whom to make children. It is therefore no surprise that the human female is the only primate that possesses fully formed breasts even when not pregnant.

And yet with all this interest, the breast can turn cancerous and become a source for fear, loss, and suffering. It is appropriate and even glorious that we have advanced our medical and surgical knowledge to discover breast malignancy, to remove the destructive tumors, and to repair and reconstruct the breasts back to their original shape and consistency. Think how devastating to lose them, and not be able to get them back.

A woman's breast is at once the origin of intimacy, the nourishing gift of mother's milk, perhaps the foundation for civilization, and then after all this nurturing, to become such a potential source for individual suffering. No wonder breasts get all that attention. They deserve it.
