Vermillion grapplers ready for season

By Scott Bormann

The word around the proverbial water-cooler is that the Vermillion grapplers should have a very good season.

The team will be anchored by Regan Bye and Brett Bye. Regan is the 145-pound state champ, from last year. Brett placed third last year, but is a four-time state placer.

"There was no summer for these two," said Coach Hazen Bye. "After several camps and competing in tournaments, Regan and Brett are both ranked nationally in top wrestling rankings."

The Tanagers are looking forward to a great 2013-14 season. They expect to see some new faces making names for themselves.

"Carter Kratz, Brandon Hertz, and Alex Osborn will see a lot of success," said Coach Bye. "Seth Heine, Sineway Marshall, Trey Hage, and Kyle Seibel will be looking to take it to the next level. Overall, our team is working hard to improve themselves and the program."

This year Vermillion is in a new Dakota 12 conference, which will provide some exciting wrestling, since it adds many new faces to the Tanager's schedule. Practice began on Monday, Nov. 18 with 34 kids (7-12 grades) showing up.

The Tanagers' first contest will be hosting the Lennox Orioles at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 3. They then travel to Sioux Falls on Saturday, Dec. 7 to compete in a nine-team tournament in the main Roosevelt High School gym.

Tanager girls basketball roster will take court

By Scott Bormann

At first glance, the Tanager girls basketball team seems as though it will be going through a rebuilding year this season. They have only one returning starter, Josie Huber, who is also their only senior. First glances may be deceiving, though.

"Sydney Peters and Shantel French both got some varsity playing time last year," said new Coach Jon Brooks, "and will be looked at to fill in and play big roles."

With a nice sophomore and junior classes that have a lot of JV experience, there will be a lot of fighting for spots on the team. There may be some pleasant surprises from the up-an-coming freshmen, as well.

The Tanagers have to weather some tough games early in the season, hoping to gain valuable experience for later in the season.

The team will start the 2013-14 season by traveling to West Central on Tuesday, Dec. 3 for a game that begins at 4 p.m. They will then travel to Elk Point-Jefferson and Bon Homme on the Dec. 10 and Dec. 13, before their home opener on Tuesday, Dec. 17 against Sioux Falls Christian.

Coach Brooks knows that "with not much Varsity experience we just need to get better every day and hopefully by the end of the year we will be very competitive."

It may be a very difficult haul for this team, but they do have high hopes.

"Our goals every year are to win our conference and region and advance to the State Tournament, and anything can happen when you're there," said Brooks.

The new Dakota XII Conference should help this team stay focused and competitive with three of four games before Christmas vacation being against Conference foes.

treasure with others as best we can.

He noted that years ago, he and his wife, Gwen, discussed what they could do to make a difference.

"She and I believed in helping an activity grow to better improve the welfare of others," Young said. "You honor both of us this evening, and I thank you."

He was born Feb. 11, 1920, in Indianapolis, IN. He was drafted into the U.S. Army in April, 1943, and was mustered out of service in August 1946 as a 1st lieutenant, and stayed active in the U.S. Army Reserve. In 1948, he met his wife, Gwen. They were married Nov. 17, 1948.

Young was recalled to the U.S. Army in 1951 for service during the Korean Conflict. He was initially assigned to the Office Chief of Ordnance in the Pentagon, but in the fall of 1952, he was assigned to the 85th Ordnance Battalion on the outskirts of Frankfurt, Germany. He was promoted to captain in 1954, and completed his service in the 85th Ordnance Battalion as an intelligence officer and assistant operations officer.

In 1955, Young was assigned as the headquarter company commander at Frankfurt Arsenal in Philadelphia, PA. In June of 1958, he was assigned as the ordnance officer of the U.S. Army training team for the 2nd Infantry Division of the Iranian Army in Tabriz, Iran, for one year.

In June 1959, Young was sent to the Guided Missile School at Redstone Arsenal. He was later accepted to the Army Bootstrap Program at the University of Omaha where he received a bachelor of general education degree.

In the summer of 1961, the Moore family moved to Mannheim, Germany. He was assigned to the ordnance industrial center where he assumed responsibility for inspection of the work in five ordnance rebuild plants in Germany, and inspection and acceptance of all ordnance material the U.S. Army procured in western Europe.

In the summer of 1964, Young was assigned to the ROTC detachment at the University of South Dakota. During his service time at USD, he took one course each semester in the graduate school of business. He retired from the U.S. Army as a lieutenant colonel, and completed his MBA requirements in the spring of 1969.

The Moore family, consisting of Young, his wife, Gwen, and their two children, Gordan and Susan, had a passion for scouting. At one time, Young was the president of the Sioux Council of the Boy Scouts of America in Sioux Falls, and Gwen was the president of the Sioux Trails Girl Scouts Council in Sioux City, IA.

Young's service to the Vermillion community includes moderator, chair of trustees and chair of stewardship for the United Church of Christ here, as well as moderator, chair, board of director member, and chair of the board of trustees for the South Dakota Conference of the United Church of Christ.

He has also served on the board of directors of the United Way, as well as serving as its executive director. He has served on the audit committee of the University of South Dakota Foundation, has served as chair of the finance committee of the Senior Citizens board of directors, and has been a member of the board of trustees for SEDSAC, Inc.

Young has also served on boards for the Center for Children and Families, public transportation, Austin Whittemore House and Dakota Hospital Foundation.

He was approached by the SDCF in 2000 to begin a community foundation in Vermillion, and established the first board of directors of the VACF, and served initially as co-chair and continued as an active board member of the foundation through 2012.
