'A FIERCE GREEN FIRE' TO BE SHOWN

VERMILLION — The Edith B. Siegrist Vermillion Public Library presents "A Fierce Green Fire: The Battle for a Living Planet" at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

The film chronicles the largest environmental movement of the 20th century and one of the keys to a 21st Century movement. Directly following the film will be a guided community discussion under the direction of Meghann Jarchow, Assistant Professor of Sustainability at USD. Attendance is free and open to the public.

Inspired by Philip Shabecoff's book of the same name, "A Fierce Green Fire" is a landmark film in environmentalism and delves into the first big-picture exploration of the movement — grassroots and global activism spanning 50 years, from conservation to climate change. Activism through the ages has resulted in people fighting to save their homes, lives and future.

The public is invited to the Kozak Community Room to watch "A Fierce Green Fire" and stick around afterward for facilitated discussion.

This event is supported by the USD Sustainability Club, the regional chapter of the Sierra Club and the Edith B. Siegrist Vermillion Public Library Board of Trustees.
